

.... 23 MONDAY [23-342]

Rose at 8 o'clock, studied till 10. Went to the Daikaku Banks, taught ~~with~~ Mr. Roper's class, with help of an interpreter, till 12. Another class from 2-4. Enjoyed the work very much. In the afternoon, took a walk with Magogami and three pupils. Evening, began the Katakana and read Papers ~~to~~ just rec'd by English Mail.

.... 24 TUESDAY [24-341]

Taught Magogami, from 9-10, and in school, till 12. Afternoon 2-4. Walked out with Magogami, past the race-course, new temple-grounds & monument to the soldiers killed in the civil war. Saw Fusujima in glory, sunset - magnificent.

Evening - study of Japanese.

Fusujima seen from Teddo, always grandly outlined against a sunset sky, or bank of cloud, or with the sun leaning beside it. The sight bursts on you suddenly, as it stands gloriously alone.
